I fell in love with the Web Development community in 2021 and aim to become a Full stack Web Developer. With 6+ years of experience in the field of design and marketing, I have a diverse range of inter-cultural experiences. I am not only a team-player but also a self-starter. I find satisfaction when I can apply my design mindset to the creative problem solving attitude aspect to my codes.

I strive to gain more skills and knowledge to help companies solve problems and am always eager to learn new Technologies (on my list: React Native, Regex, Typescript)
